

Winter Maintenance and the Public Good
Max Perchanok, Coordinator for Innovation and Sustainability
Provincial Highways Management Division, Ontario Ministry of Transportation

ABSTRACT

Winter maintenance operations provide positive benefits to transportation systems, yet unintended consequences detract in several ways from the overall public good. This presentation reviews the definition of public good, the aspects of maintenance activities that fall outside the definition, and proposes a framework for balancing the conflicting public interests.